
DAYLE MCINTOSH CENTER

CROSS-DISABILITY SUPPORT GROUP

If you are an individual, who is adjusting to life with a disability, and could benefit from talking to, and learning from, others with similar experiences, consider becoming part of the cross-disability peer support group hosted by the Dayle McIntosh Center.

In a safe and welcoming environment, you will have the opportunity to:

- Discuss issues and concerns related to disability
- Gain support by forming new friendships
- Discover adaptive techniques and assistive devices
- Share successes and setbacks with others, who can relate to your situation
